GREAT CURB OF RHEUMATISM CONTRACTED UNDER TROPICAL CLIMATES. BALTIMORE, Md., June 4, 1854. Mr. Stockbridge, of the Fountain Hotel Light street

Dear Sir: Being on the point of leaving the city, i avail myself of a few idle mements to thank you sindly for the medicine you sent me, and which has restored me to the use of my limbs. I beg you to send me four bottles more, to carry on my voyage. Since I had the fortune to use Dr. Hampton's Vegegratitude to the proprietors of said medicine, I be you to present my respects to them, and induce them to make it more publicly known as a sure Kheumatic cure. Having called on me on the 19th of April last, and seen me prostrated on my bed useless in all my li ubs, you can appreciate nearly as well as myself the prompt relief I received from Dr. flampton's Tincture, and I am positive had i not been for your strong and forcible recommends tions I should still have been in bed.

It is really a pity this specific should not be ap proved by medical men, and like all patent drugs should suffer the imputation the public generall give to such preparations. I myself, who was a ways opposed to a patented specific, took this meditine with reluctance, and without confidence in i and it was only through your disinterested, friendly recommendations, and my critical situation that in duced me to try this really beneficial Vegetable

You may inform Mesers. Mortimer & Mowbray that they are at liberty to make use of my name in the support of the good effects of Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, as it has cured me in five weeks of a chronic Inflammatory Rheumatism, contracted under tropical climates, and of seven years' periodical luration. I have only used three bottles, and find that even the deformed parts of my hands are fast returning o their former natural appearance. I have been under the treatment of several phy sicians in London and Paris, without any apparen benefit; also, while in New York, having tried the Thompsonian and Homopathic remedies, after having been tormented with galvanic ba teries, cold and aromatic baths, and hundreds of internal and external medicines, all to no effect, I am, so far sured by this Hampton's Vege able Tinsture only Therefore, my ear sir, accept of the assurance on gratifude, and believe me your well wisher. Boush—pear sir: While I am, in gene rai, opposed to patent medicines, cander compels me to state that I have great confidence in the virtues of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. For several months past I have used it in my family; and in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, disziness, and general de bility, with entire success. So far as my experience extents, therefore, I take pleasure in recommend ing it to the afflicted as a safe and efficient remedy. I am, respectfully, yours,

THE CONDITION OF MEXICO.

On Friday last, we presented our readers with some extracts from a work soon to be published, purporting to be "Notes of a Tour in Mexico in 1854; by a Citizen of New York." We now furnish the following, which we have been allowed to copy from the MS. of the author.

intended to re-enact Louis Napoleon's coup d'etat, but he was thwarted by the few energetic patriots of the republican party who were prepared for a counter revolution and his banishment, had he not abandoned his intention. Since then, Santa Anna has adopted the plan of banishment or execution of these men in detail. Afraid to trust himself at the Capitol, he has sneaked out to Jacubava. where he receives daily reports from his emissaries and spies. His parasites and flatterers tell him he is secure, but every well informed man in the country is convinced that his Serene! Highness is walking on the brink of a volcano which will burst forth in a few months. His troops are badly paid, clothed and fed; and, in fact, except a few Prætorian cohorts, the Government is several months in arrears to the whole army. He keeps a strong garrison, or rather a numerous garrison at Vera Cruz, but the officers and men are continually manifesting dissatisfacion. Scarcely a week elapses but some impudent officer is "weeded out," (as trite a phrase here as "crushed out" is in the United States,) and sent off, either out of Mexico or to some place in it at which he can do no harm. Whilst the soldiers are thus left unpaid, Santa has now in Vera Cruz about $300,000 waiting for shipment to Europe, being part of His Serene Highness's share of the 7,000,-000 paid by the United States for the new

General Basadre, who, I have mentioned before, is now one of his chief favorites-I call him general, for nearly all here are generals—as common as major in Georgia or colonel in New York. Basadre has no portfolio, but he is a sort of kitchen cabinet secratario to his Serene Highness. B. is an impudent scamp, and, like the king's fool, tells wholesome truths to all. It seems he had admonished his august master from time to time that he was most assuredly going to the devil in this world, if he did not change his course and kick some of the curs in office out of public employment. The Cabinet found this out, and sought to countermine him, charging Basadre to the Dictator with being the prime disturber of the "public tranquility," (a great phrase here,) and demanded his banishment from Mexico; but to make it easy proposed the continuation of his salary of $6,000 a year. At the ened to appeal to the people, but found out his blunder time enough to back out and sent for his confident to hear his ico and nearer you." "Well, well, where Anna. "Why, General, if I must go, I certainly meet you before long!" rejoined Basadre. "Carajo!" exclaimed his Sewhich Santa Anna retired when he was expelled from Mexico; but in a few moments he became soothed, burst in a fit of laughter, and taking his favorite by the ear, (a la Napoleon le Grand,) he said, "Reil good; excellent, per Dios; you are an impudent scamp, but I cannot help liking you. Go to your office, and mind your business hereafter. Don't meddle with those fascals of the Cabinet. I'll manage them."

The conduct of the Mexican officers to the United States is anything but courteous. A deep feeling prevails among Santa Anna's partizan's against our citisular seals, or even those of the Departfrom the United States which come into again at Thanksgiving, won't you?" their hands. They plunder the property of travelers and merchants of the United States, and the United States will ere long have to make another overhauling of these scamps.

THE MOUSTACHE AT A PREMIUM. -At a meeting of Town Commissioners, held in Longford, England, lately, a Mr. Dwyer moved—That as the street scavengers were obliged to be often in a very offensive atmosphere, rendering a "hair lip" most beneficial for the purification of the noxious gases they were compelled to breathe, they be henceforth directed to cultivate the moustache. A Mr. Legge went a step further by proposing, in addition, that the men be allowed a penny a day extra for doing so, which was carried nem. con one of will as to the acward mister eddyter: The country am saved: I've voted; I went to the poles this morning; and as I cum up to the 9th ward, the people all stood back, and sed, "here he cums," and when I handed the papers to the inside of the winder, I heerd His Serene Highness, the Dictator, had em say all round, "he hez saved his country." Bime-by, a friend asked me to vote for his candidate, and I went with him to an other place, and voted for some other, and he slapped me on the back, and sed-"you have saved your country."

Well, mr eddyter, I got to takin suthin' to drink, and votin'; fust I'd vote and then I'd drink, and by 3 o'c ock I had saved my country 11 times, and was pretty near so my legs crooked. What was the particular danger that my serveses was nesessary, all over town, and who's elected? I voted 7 times for Scriggins, 8 times for See-more, 3 times for lary, but mary one for Bronsen. TOBACCO CHEWING IN PUBLIC.-The private mastication of tobacco in one's own home, parlor, bed-room, or kitchen, is an affair to be settled between one's wife and one's self. We do not intend to interfere with the police regulations of the home—they are in abler hands than ours. If indulgent wives choose to have their door-steps and balcony floor discolored, their carpets ruined, and their parlor and bed rooms irrevocably defiled with tobacco juice-if they relish the contact, with their own mouths, of lips that have been all day saturated with yellow saliva-if they like the smell of tobacco-scented breaths, coming from beneath dirty and disgusting teeth-we have nothing to say. But we have a right to protest, and do protest, against the outrageous public nuisance of tobacco chewing. No man has a right to go to a theatre, or any public gathering, and seating himself in the midst of cleanly Christians, squirt out, at random, streams of tobacco juice around him. To do this in those parts of the house where only men are placed, is in the last degree rude and thoughtless; but to carry the revolting practice into the presence of ladies-into the dress circle of the theatre, the concert room, the church pew-

and it is habitually done in all these places - is little shot of blackguardism.

FLOPEMENT.-W. H. A SECOND ADVENT STORY -A correspondent at Manchester, N. H., says that a lady in that vicinity, a firm believer in the doctrine of the Millerites, went, preparatory to her ascension on the 1st instant-to bid an affectionate relative farewell. The Millerite, upon taking leave, told the old lady with much solemnity, that on the morrow she should "go up. Her relative, whose sense of hearing is not very acute, not quite understanding as to the place to which her young friend zens. > NIGHT CARS .- Sombody in Buffalo claims to have invented a greatly-improved seat for railroad cars running in the night time, which is readily converted into a horizontal bed, provided with coverings and surrounded with curtains. An excellent thing of the kind is in use on the New Jersey Central Railroad. The back of the seat can be raised or depressed, to support the head in an easy position, and the entire seat can be so adjusted as to greatly favor repose.

A boy about ten years of age recently hung himself in his father's cellar. in Providence, R. I. He had gone off with a gun against his father's consent, and on his return he said he would go into the cellar, and make believe to hang himself. Upon searching for him about an hour after, his father found him hanging dead. He had mounted upon a cask, and tied a rope round his neck, and it is supposed the cask fell over, and the little fellow was left suspended.
